Orchestra To Honor Beethoven; Good Grief! He's 200 Years Old!

NEWS BUREAU--The 200th anniversary of Beethoven's birthday will be celebrated here tomorrow with a concert which will appeal to those who like other composers just as well.

The Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra will perform Saint-Saens' "Bacchanal" from "Samson and Delilah" and Kodaly's "Psalmus Hungaricus" in addition to the best-known of Beethoven's nine symphonies, "Symphony No. 5 in C Minor."

The concert, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium, will see the appearance of the Wartburg Oratorio Chorus and the Cedar Falls High School Choir with the orchestra.

Symphony Is Popular
Beethoven's "Fifth Symphony"

was popularized in this country during World War II, according to Dr. Franklin E. Williams, Symphony Orchestra director, and "is one of the old war-horses."

Basically the same description is given the "Bacchanal." "If anyone doesn't recognize the piece by its name, they will when they hear it," Dr. Williams said.

The Kodaly composition, however, is not so well known. "It is very Hungarian with a flamboyant, romantic sound."

Features Chorus

It will feature the Oratorio Chorus under the direction of Dr. James Fritschel, the Cedar Falls High School Choir under the direction of John Evenson and C. Robert Larson of the Wartburg music faculty as tenor soloist.

The "Psalmus Hungaricus" is a setting of a paraphrase of the 55th Psalm by the 16th century poet-preacher of Kecskemet, also Kodaly's birthplace, Michael Veg. Following the custom of his time, Veg interspersed his version of the poem with personal comments of particular significance to his countrymen.

In the preface to the published score, A. V. Toth says, "These qualities of the text must have appealed strongly to Kodaly, the lofty national poet. His musical setting exhausts both the national and subjective elements of the poem and molds them into a perfect and homogeneous unit of great visionary beauty and of tremendous lyric and dramatic strength."

Junior Writes Numbers For Castle Singers Show

NEWS BUREAU--When the Wartburg College Castle Singers perform "Get It Together" before MENC (Music Educators National Convention) in Chicago March 6-7, one of the composers of the "musical editorial" will be among the student performers.

Junior Dean Tellefson last term wrote six original numbers for the show and did most of the arranging as a project for the college's "alternate route to graduation." Dr. James E. Fritschel, director of the Singers, was his supervisor.

"Get It Together" is described by Tellefson as a "musical editorial," which discusses these five topics: hunger, campus revolution, cities, the church as big business and love.

Tellefson has completed a piece for the church as big business portion called "The Church Can't Find Me"; one for the hunger section, "Reach Out"; and one for the love section, "Cause You Are You." He is also writing the finale, "Get It Together."

He is also responsible for the prologue before each section, the incidental music throughout and the opening stage band number, "Kick Off."

Tellefson, who will play the drums and the organ for the show, said of the latter number, "We are trying to treat the instrumentation like a studio band."

"Get It Together" is a mixed media show, using tapes, slides and movies as part of the effect.

Grant Received

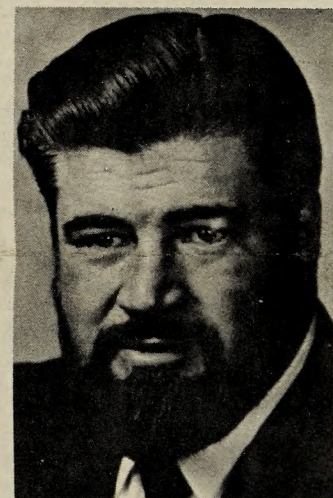

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has given Wartburg a grant of used equipment.

According to Dr. John O. Chellevoid, vice president of the college and chairman of the Mathematics Department, the equipment was given under the Used Nuclear-Type Equipment Grant Program and will be used for instruction in biology, chemistry and physics.

Senior Receives Award

NEWS BUREAU--Senior Susan Hix has been put on the Honorable Mention list in the annual Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship competition, the Wilson Foundation announced Wednesday.

Her name along with 1,151 others on the Honorable Mention list will be circulated among Former missionary David Simonson will speak in convo Wednesday.

Church Activism Is Convo Theme

Pastor David Simonson will address convocation next Wednesday on the topic "The Mission of the Church-Authentic Activity or Pietistic Platitude."

Simonson served in Tanzania for 14 years and was one of the founding members of "Operation Bootstrap-Tanzania," a non-church foundation for educational development.

An occasional visitor to the Wartburg campus, Simonson will be available at 8 a.m. Wednesday in the Lutheran Heritage class, Room 100 of Old Main. An open lunch in the Castle Room will follow the post-convo discussion in the conference room of the union. He will be present for the class in Patterns of Non-Judeo Christian Thought at 2 p.m. in the library classroom.

A resident of Northfield, Minn., Pastor Simonson graduated from Concordia College in 1951 and later received bachelor's and master's degrees in theology from Luther Seminary in St. Paul, Minn. He has also done some work at the University of London.

French Theater Company Will Present Two Plays

Works of the French playwright Ionesco comes to life at Wartburg on April 15 when the famous French Theater company

Le Treteau De Paris presents two plays, "Les Chaises" and "La Lecon."

Le Treteau De Paris has just begun its eleventh American tour, giving Americans the opportunity to get to know the best French dramatic works as they are known in France and appreciated by French audiences.

Tickets for the performance at 8 p.m. on April 15 in the Chapel-auditorium may be reserved by calling Wartburg's foreign language office (352-1200, Ext. 232).

SWEEP Plans Teach-In

NEWS BUREAU--An Environmental Teach-In, emphasizing the need for control of pollution, will be held at Wartburg March 30-April 3.

It will be sponsored by the Biology Department and a student organization called SWEEP (Students Working for Economic and Environmental Priorities). Further details will be announced later.

Music Major Plans Singing On War-Peace

The coffeehouse will be the scene of a special War-Peace program at 9 p.m. on Friday, March 6. Kay Robinson, junior music education major, will present the program as a creative project for this term's Great Issues course.

Accompanied by Dale Ziemer, junior social work major, on the guitar, Kay will sing a number of folk songs associated with themes about war and peace.

A dialogue, composed of a variety of readings and poems, will add some of the moods and feelings associated with the War-Peace songs.

All Wartburg students and faculty are invited to attend the presentation.

Games Administrators Play

Okay, kiddies, it's time to learn a new game. This is a game the (for lack of a more appropriate word) Adults of Wartburg College are already well acquainted with. (By Adults, we refer to those persons with powers of making decisions, which does not include students.)

The name of the game is Hesitation, an adaptation of an old U.S. government ploy classified as Stalling-For-Time. Wartburg is fortunate in having many experts.

The rules of the game are simple: a student, or group of students, approaches the Adults and makes a request. The trick is for the Adults to figure out ways and means of procrastinating.

If they give in, and a decision is actually made, the student has won. If, however, they can tie it up in committee red tape until a school year is over, the Adults have won. Either way, the prize is a pat on the back from one's peers.

Example Is Given

Suppose, for the sake of example, we look at the proposals for housing changes (enumerated in Unicamaraderie, elsewhere on this page) which received the Senate nod this week.

The proposals, originally devised by Building Committee member Mike Rehak, were formulated by an ad hoc Senate committee in one week's time, and voted in one meeting, commendably fast work for the Senate.

Now, if the Adults would choose to act with as much efficiency, the matter would be decided by the end of the Winter Term. But that, obviously, is not a part of the game.

The proposal now awaits the contemplation of the Faculty-Student Council, which in its most recent meeting deftly managed to pigeonhole the measures until its next meeting.

Points Add Up

Ordinarily, this would be worth two points and a silver star for the Adults, but this particular move counts 10 points and a gold-plated trophy; the Faculty-Student Council has no regular meeting time. In fact, this occurred at the first meeting of that austere assemblage this term. With luck and a little skill, they may manage not to meet again this year.

Victory for the Adults is in sight; after all, if the proposals slip by the Council, there's always the President's Cabinet . . . and a general faculty vote . . . and a student referendum . . . and a letter to the parents . . . and, when all else fails, the Board of Regents. Sorry, gang. The students don't stand a chance.

Oh, well. You win a few, you lose a few. Some are rained out and some you don't dress for.

By the way, has anyone seen the Baha'i constitution lately?

Pianist Will Give Recital

Pianist Marian Buck-Lew will be presented in recital March 8 at 3 p.m. in Voecks Auditorium of the Becker Hall of Science.

Miss Buck-Lew was first-place winner of the third biennial Sterling Staff Concerts competition held in Dallas, Tex., in 1968 at the international convention of Mu Phi Epsilon professional music sorority. Her appearance here is being sponsored by the Beta Rho Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon.

As a Sterling Staff Concerts artist, Miss Buck-Lew is a participant in a unique project among opportunities offered young musicians. Through preliminary tape auditions, finalists in this competition are chosen and brought to the biennial convention of the sorority.

Judges of national repute judge both the preliminary and final auditions. The winners present their first Sterling Staff Concert before convention delegates from every corner of the United States and from the Philippines.

For the next two years the winners are sent to chapters throughout the country to give concerts. These young artists thereby gain experience and are widely heard. All this helps them bridge the gap between musical studies and the professional performing field.

Her program here will include selections by Scarlatti, Meyerowitz, Beethoven and Chopin. Tickets may be obtained in the Music Office at the Fine Arts Building on the Wartburg College Campus or at the door.

Planetarium Has New Program

Wartburg's planetarium will have a new program beginning next week. To be presented for the rest of the school year, the program is about planetary motion.

Regular showings will continue at the scheduled time, Thursday at 8 p.m. Tickets are available in the office of the Department of Mathematics, 203 Becker Hall.

Housing Proposals Offered

Last week the senate passed and sent to the administration five proposals which they felt would improve the dormitory living. The five proposals are as follows:

1. We propose that carpeted, furnished, study lounges be provided for student use on each floor of the following dormitories: Wartburg, Grossmann, Clinton, Vollmer, Centennial and Hebron.
2. We propose that North Hall be razed in compliance with fire marshal regulations.
3. We propose that the bookstore be enlarged to encompass the whole of Wartburg Hall ground floor and that the recreation room be moved up to the north end of first floor.
4. We propose that the college convert Afton and Waverly manors, with senior priority, into apartment type dormitories (co-ed alternating suites; a suite being defined as two rooms connected by a bathroom.)
5. It is also proposed that all women's dormitories be converted into four-year dormitories.

When acted upon by the administration these five proposals will affect every student on this campus, either directly or indirectly.

If you wish to see these proposals be put into effect, let your senator know that you support his position. If you disagree, it is also your duty to let him know so that he can better represent you in senate. If you have a question about these proposals talk to your senator and ask him to explain them to you or put you in touch with someone who can explain them.

Orchestra Picks Youth Soloists

NEWS BUREAU -- Audition winners, who will perform at the Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra's annual "Young Artists Concert," were announced by director Franklin E. Williams.

Five young soloists were selected for the April 12 concert, and a sixth was asked to appear at a regular season concert next year.

The five picked for the "Young Artists Concert" were: cellist Christine Carlsten of Des Moines, baritone vocalist Mark Hull of Kellogg, French horn player Robert Buck of Waterloo, N.Y., pianist Scott Dunn of Eagle Grove and pianist Christopher Severin of Cedar Falls.

The additional musician is pianist James Birk of West Des Moines, who is a graduate student at Drake University.

Twenty-six students competed, according to Dr. Williams, the largest number ever to audition for the "Young Artists Concert."

Cagers Romp Past Upper Iowa, 100-73, Claim Fifth Straight Title, Playoff Berth

By DOUG BODINE

Wartburg romped past Upper Iowa, 100-73, last night at Fayette to claim their fifth consecutive Iowa Conference basketball championship.

Tonight the Knights must play and beat Dubuque in the Spartans home city in order to win the championship outright and determine Wartburg's exact role in the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics District 15 playoffs.

William Penn, who beat Buena Vista, 76-62, last night, is only one game off the pace and can still tie for the title.

The Statesmen are 10-3 in IIAC play. Wartburg is 11-2 and 22-2 overall.

Taylor Hayes' team handed Wartburg both losses. A tie for the conference title would give them the IIAC number one seeded position in the tournament.

William Penn beat Wartburg at the Knights Gym 61-60 last Friday. The Knights bounced back to beat Central 72-60 last Saturday.

Five-foot-seven Tom Underwood led a Statesmen comeback which saw them come from a 13 point deficit to win in the final seconds.

Change Made

This year a change has been made in the post season tournament. The two top teams in the Iowa Conference and the two top Iowa independents will play a single elimination tournament.

The number one seeded IIAC team plays the second seeded independent on the Iowa Conference team's home floor. The second place team in the conference must play at the first seeded independent's home.

Monday night will have the first round being played. The championship game will be Wednesday.

Kansas City, Mo., will be the sight of the national playoffs the following week.

Six In Double Figures

Six men scored in double figures last night for Wartburg. G. E. Buenning led the attack with 18. He was closely followed by Jim Barkema, 17, and Virg

Erickson and Tom Manchester with 16.

Fred Grawe scored 13 while leading the team with 11 rebounds. Derry Brunscheen put in 12.

Bob Roberts led all scorers with 21 in the losing cause. Sophomore center Dan Marske hit for 18 for Upper Iowa.

Wartburg hit 40-73 shots from the field, for 54.8 percent. The Peacocks shot only 39.4 percent.

Erickson, called by coach Lewis (Buzz) Levick "the best defensive guard in the conference," tonight will have the task of holding down the league's best offensive guard, Bob Finnegan.

Finnegan is on his way to his second straight scoring title with a 26.4 average through last week-end's games.

Erickson said, "if we can keep him under 20 we're doing a good job. He's great."

"I'll have to take the baseline away from him and force him into the middle where I can get some help."

Buenning's Fourth

Buenning reflected the team's confidence, "I think we're going to wrap it up tomorrow (tonight) night. We'll make it four in a row."

Buenning has started every Wartburg game since he was a freshman and has played on four straight championship teams.

The 6-4 All American candidate from Parkston, S.D. was asked if this is the best team he has played on and replied grinning, "Ask me in Kansas City."

Manchester, who enjoyed a perfect game as he hit on all eight attempts from the field last night, said that Dubuque may have lost some incentive because they are now eliminated.

He points out though that they are still an arch-rival and says, "We will have to play pretty well to beat them."

Wesleyan in Playoff

Iowa Wesleyan will be one of the independent teams in the District 15 playoffs. The other will probably be either St. Ambrose or Briar Cliff. A District 15 committee will make the final decision tomorrow.

William Penn hosts Simpson tonight. A Statemen win and Wartburg loss to Dubuque would put William Penn and Wartburg in the playoff. Wartburg is assured of the playoff berth.

However, if William Penn lost and Dubuque won, they would then be tied for second place in the IIAC with 10-4 records. The District committee would make a decision in this case tomorrow.

Track Squad Runs Today Minus Beck

by Lyle Hallowell...

Wartburg's trackmen will be without their captain and top performer, Doug Beck, as they compete in two triangular meets today and next week.

Beck will miss the University of Northern Iowa-Illinois State meet today at Cedar Falls and the Mankato State-Luther meet at Mankato, Minn., March 3 due to illness.

Bruce Coleman and Tom Jenkins were the Knight's only first place finishers as Wartburg scored 45 points to 97 for winning St. Olaf and 31 for Augsburg in a triangular at Northfield, Minn., Feb. 14.

Coleman's winning time in the 880 of 2:00.5 the sophomore is a Wartburg indoor record and was run after the sophomore distance ace ran a 4:23.7 for second place in the mile. Jenkins cleared 13 feet for his victory in the pole vault.

Second place winners were Jim Weber with a throw of 42' 8 1/2" in the shot put, Lyle Stotten clocking 53.2 in the 440, Bill Vogenson with 6.5 in the 60 yard dash and Lynn Gunderson with a leap of 41' 3 1/2" in the triple jump.

Placing third were John Pearson, 42' 4 1/2", shotput; Beck 4:23.5, mile run; Paul Gammelin, 20' 1 3/8", long jump; Jim Hunneut, 8.2, 60 yard high hurdles; Clarence Allen, 6.6, 60 yard dash; Lyle Hallowell, 2:27.4, 1000 yard run; Stotten, 34.7, 300 yard run and Gammelin, 39' 9", triple jump.

Capturing fourth place were Dean Dietz, 5' 10", high jump; Al Anderson, 53.5, 440; Gunderson, 19' 11 3/4", long jump; and Marty Rathje, 9:44.7, two-mile run.

Coach Gordon Jeppson commented, "It's not fun to be a distant second, but we did as well as we could in most events. Beck, and several other top performers were ill and that cost us some points."

"We have gained strength in last year's weak spots. On the whole, I was pleased with our physical condition and hope for equal progress throughout the season."

Wrestlers Bow To Norse; Host IIAC Meet Saturday

By DOUG BODINE

Coming off of a disappointing 20-16 loss to arch-rival Luther, the Wartburg wrestlers will have a week lay-off before hosting the Iowa Conference meet next Saturday in the Knights Gym.

Thursday night in the Knights Gym Luther grabbed an early lead in the first match. The Norsemen never relinquished that advantage as they stayed off an attempted Wartburg comeback in the heavier weights.

'Should Have Won'

Coach Dick Walker said, "We should have won 77 and we should have won 58. That's the reason we lost the meet."

Luther's Randy Breeke defeated Greg Slager in the 177-pound match 6-2. Tom Turner drew with Terry Kramer 1-1 in the 158-pound match.

Rus Smith scored an impressive 15-4 victory over Steve Sedory in the 126-pound match for Wartburg. Steve Noah, 150, kept up his consistent winning with an 8-3 decision over Gary Worden.

Mannie Holmes, 167, and Gene Johnson, heavyweight, scored the other Knight decisions with 7-5 and 6-3 wins.

In double dual action at the Knights Gym Feb. 14 Wartburg trounced Carleton, 37-2 and then nipped St. Olaf 20-18 in a classic comeback.

Pins Win 'Classic'

In the St. Olaf meet the Knights trailed 16-2 going into the 158 pound match. Slager and Johnson capped the performance with pins at 190 and heavyweight to give the Knights the win.

Winona State overwhelmed the wrestlers 42-0 at Winona, Minn., Feb. 19. Winona is ranked fifth in national wrestling polls.

Walker commented about the Luther meet, "If we wrestle that way in the conference meet we'll be behind Central." Central is rated as a middle-of-the-conference team.

The Knights, who beat Central earlier this year, now post an 11 win-7 loss-1 tie mark.

Upper Iowa, fourth rated nationally, is the consensus choice for the conference title. Walker rates Luther and Dubuque as the other top teams.

Buenning Named All District Five

G. E. Buenning has added to his long list of accolades earned at Wartburg by being named to the first team of the District Five National Collegiate College Division basketball team this week.

Buenning, who holds almost all Wartburg scoring records, was the only Iowa Conference player to be named to the first squad. Vern Den Herder of Central and Bob Finnegan of Dubuque were listed on the third team.

Others selected to the first team were Curtis Perry, Southeast Missouri State; Dennis Womeldorf, South Dakota State; Dennis Dooge, Central Missouri State and Fred Anderson, Southeast Missouri State.

Blacks Observe Malcolm X Day With Biography, Special Funds

By DICK LEE

Wartburg's black community brought the story of Malcolm X to the campus in a special tribute last week.

Malcolm X Day, commemorating the assassination of the black nationalist leader five years ago, was observed by a program presented to more than a hundred people and by the creation of two funds.

One fund will establish a Malcolm X Scholarship at Wartburg, according to Hermon George, member of the Spanish Department. He said, "We wanted to do things to make this an on-going concern."

Freshman Harold Lloyd added that a second fund--the Wartburg-Waterloo Community Development Fund--has also been established to bring about "contact between the oppressed and exploited community in Waterloo and here at Wartburg."

Traces Life

In the first part of the program George, Lloyd and junior Clarence Allen traced the life of Malcolm X and the development of his philosophy to the time of his death.

According to Allen, Malcolm's early years were marked by the murder of his father, an itinerant Baptist preacher, and black activities, and by the breakup of his family by the welfare system of the state of Michigan.

Allen said that at that time the crystalization of his rejection of white society began, and quoted Malcolm on his feelings, "Our family didn't have to be destroyed. I have no mercy in me for a society that could crush people."

Although his adolescent years were spent in small Michigan cities, relatives introduced him to the larger Afro-American community in Boston. There and in New York he learned how to survive in the ghetto.

He became a bartender, a dope peddler, a pimp. Inevitably, he had trouble with the law. Harold Lloyd, talking about this important time in Malcolm's life, explained that it was while serving a 10-year prison sentence that he came into contact with the Black Muslim religion.

Soon after his release he became an organizer for Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad.

Lloyd added that Malcolm X can be considered a spiritual father of the Black Panther party.

Seeks New Purposes

Malcolm X outgrew the religion of Elijah Muhammad. Hermon George talked about the split and Malcolm's search for a new statement of purpose.

Trips to Africa and the holy places of Islamic Arabia gave Malcolm a new perspective. "I am not a racist and do not subscribe to the tenets of racism."

George added, "Travels in newly independent nations in Africa convinced him that American blacks had many allies. He patterned his Organization for Afro-American Unity on the Organization for African Unity."

Questions Remain

It was while he was developing his new ideas that he was murdered under still mysterious circumstances. Speaking about the task of those who follow Malcolm X, George continued, "We must pick up the task where brother Malcolm left it. Now we must make Malcolm's struggle our own. There is now no other way to pay homage to this truly great black man."

According to George, questions which still remain include the adequacy of the term "black nationalism," the ways in which black and white militants can work together, the necessity of socialism as an ingredient in change and the wisdom of working with more moderate forces.
